Online Training Opportunities

Behavior Management for School Age Children

This course familiarizes students with techniques and strategies for improving school-age student behavior. Behavior management is an important part of establishing a positive learning environment. This course provides basic information to help child care providers develop an effective behavior management approach for dealing with children including the benefits of behavior management; strategies, techniques, and tips; why children misbehave; consequences and discipline; and adult roles.

Documenting Children's Behavior

This course discusses the importance of documenting children's behaviors. It also discusses methods of observing and recording behaviors, identifies appropriate tools and techniques, and explains analysis and interpretation of observations.
